PSYCHOANALYTIC THEORY & TECHNIQUE
Transcending the caesura: Recurrie, dreaming and counter-dreaming
A. BERNSTEIN  621-644
Bion and Tustin: The autistic phenomena
C. F. KOEDIBACHER  645-665

CLINICAL COMMUNICATIONS
Seeing, mirroring, desiring: The impact of the analyst’s pregnant body on the patient’s body image
J. YAKELEY  667-688
‘No entry’, an invitation to intrude, or both? Reflections on a group of anorexic patients
J. M. STERN  689-713

HISTORY OF PSYCHOANALYSIS
A note on the history of the Norwegian Psychoanalytic Society from 1933 to 1945
P. ANTH AND S. HAGGIVERD  715-724
Resistance in therapy and war: Psychoanalysis before and during the Nazi occupation of Norway 1933-45
H. F. NILSEN  725-746

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES
The wish for annihilation in ‘love-death’ as collapse of the need for recognition, in Wagner’s Tristan und Isolde
M. BERGSTEIN  747-766

CHILD AND ADOLESCENT PSYCHOANALYSIS
Transferences in parent-infant psychoanalytic treatments
B. SALOMONSSON  767-792

LETTER TO THE EDITOR
On: At what age should a psychoanalyst retire?
D. QUINNODZ  793-797

EDUCATION SECTION
The concept of intersubjectivity in psychoanalysis: Taking critical stock
W. BOHLEER  799-823

FILM ESSAY
Matte Blanco and narrativity: Hitchcock’s Vertigo
M. SANCHEZ-CARDENAS  825-840

BOOK AND JOURNAL REVIEWS
The APF Annual 2010: Langues et Courants Sexués [Languages and Sexual Currents] edited by André Beetschen
B. COLIN  841-850
Nouveaux Développements en Psychanalyse: Autour de la pensée de Michel de M’Uzan edited by Clarisse Baruch
E. A. SPARER  851-854
Exilium: Oltre la psicosi [Exile: Beyond Psychosis] by Marina Breccia
F. CONROTTA  854-855

OBITUARY
Remembering Daniel Stern (1934–2012): A legacy for 21st century psychoanalytic thinking and practice
R. N. EMDR  857-861